

of Federal certification and have mature tools to get access to the storage. Cloud storage (Amazon Glacier and Google Nearline) is also an attractive option for long term archival of data. The Research Solutions team is actively working on adding these services to the researcher's toolkit.